THE TOBACCO TAX.

The Impression About Reduction at Washington.

A News representative meeting Mr. Davis, the able member of Congrees from this District, now in the city attending the session of the Supreme Court, inquired about the tobacco tax. What about the tobacco tax, Mr. Davis?

The Senate committee will make majority and minority reports. The majority report recommends a tax of correspondence of the News. 20 cents. The minority report recommends 16 cents-the House bill, Our friends are sanguine of passing the House bill over the majority report.

When will the committee report? When I left Washington it was understood that the committee would report this week, Will there be an extra session of Congress? It is not probable.

The question of building a railroad completed and paid for long since, but it is very evident that something more than this is required to build railroads. The Advance has been a warm supporter of the enterprise since its first agitation and has used every effort show the people the great advantages to be derived from it, and it is hard for us to believe that our people are so blind to their interest as not to take the matter in hand and push it to completion before it is too late.

The people of Pitt, Green and Beaufort are auxious and clamorous for a road, and with them it is a matter of ndifference at what point on the W & W. R. R. it shall strike, as they are interested only in an outlet, but with the people of Wilson, it is quite different as every right thinking man can see at a glance.

It is generally conceded that Greenville is the most suitable point from most desirable place for its terminus. taking into consideration the distance and the level condition of the country through which it would pass, The is now used, against the fertilizer tax. We hope our enterprising people of Beaufort, Green, Pitt and Wilson will take hold of this matter at once and stop the talk with their acts.

H R 95, regulating the sessions of the House, making the bours 9 a. m. to 2 p. m., was the subject of some discussion. Mr Turner favored it, as did Mr. Atkinson, saying there was much work to be done, and the House would have to do double duty before the end of the session to transact all the business. It is certainly reasona-ble to work 5 hours a day, and by this plan save afternoon and evening sessions later on. Mr. Carter, of Buncombe, thought the plan poor economy, that the earliness of the hour, nine o'clock, would cause legislative action to be rushed through with a number of members out of their seats. This Legislature is a haid worked body, and have a great amount of committee duty to perform, work which consumes the afternoons, and often occupies all their time until 10 o'clock in the evening. Some time must be allowed for the preparation of business for the session. The hour of 9 is too early. VOICE OF THE PEOPLE. Fence or No Fence, Correspondence of the News.

This subject has been very thorough ly discussed during the past few months, especially on the part of no fence. We believe, from all that has been said, that some counties in our State and some townships in different counties, really desire to adopt this law, and it is probable that they may be satisfied with its workings.
But to make this law general in our

State would be an error that would work irreporable injury to her best interest. In many of our counties less than one fourth of the lands are under cultivation. It is much less expensive to fence the one-fourth than the three fourths. The stock have access to the woods during the entire year and to the har-vest fields, pea fields and corn fields. When the crops are removed what advantage could this law afford such a county or township.

A targe portion of our farmers are poor n en owning only 50 or 100 acres, (enough many contend). Many, very many of these farms bave no streams running through them. Pastures on such farms will prove expensive and to of sheep and a few head or cittle on 15 or 25 acres of wood land, to be watered from a well and fed the entire year through would prove a failure. We need more stock, that we may raise more meat, and our milk and butter, our leather, and last but not least our own fertilizers. Apply this law to our whole State and five years from to-day we will not have half the stock we have to day, with now and then an exception they will be inferior to our present stock. Let us fence our fields and give our stock access to them when our crops are removed and access to the woods when they can get their support there, and during the whole year through, drive them at night to our lots and salls. In this way with plenty of stock we can dispense with guand. I know farmers who do this and it pays them well. We occasionally hear some one ask the question, what right has the poor man's stock to forage upon the lands of his neighbors? What right has the rich man to expect the poor man to

Because if the "drummers" were out of the way, the small merchants would all have to buy their goods from them and the people who con-sumed them, would be forced to pay a profit. Whereas as trade is now conducted, the 'drummers' and agents of factories, go to all classes of merchants little and big and rell them all at the same price, and thus it is, the small merchant can sell his goods as low as the large ones, and the consumer bene-fitted by it. Money is scarce enough, heaven knows, to make us all want things cheap. Tax the "drummer" and manufacturer's agents out of the State, and who will be benefitted? The great mass of consumers and tax payers? Is it not plain the large resident dealer is to be the man? Tax one class to make another class rich. This General Assembly may do some strange things but I have no idea they will do that. On the contrary, will they not look out for the "drummer," and protect him from such iniquitous ordinances as have been made in Wilmington, Goldsboro and other towns in the State. Journalism in the State is very evidently looking up. A marked improvement in the weekly press is noticeable. The Wilson Advance, just entering its ninth year, was an excellent paper under the management of the genial Henry G. Williams, and maintains its excellence under the new management. Catawba county, one of the best counties in the State, where there is an excellent local paper-the Hickory Press-is promised a paper under the management of Mr. Warlick, a practical, energetic young printer and writer. The steady and solid growth of the Charlotte Observer is a healthy sign for the enterprising city of its publication and the section it so ably represents, Mr. Gorman, late the editor of the Asheville Pioneer, expects to establish a paper devoted to the material interests of Western North Carolina-an enterprise that augurs well for that great undeveloped section. The two Wilmington morning dailies are a credit to southern journalism. Though of recent date the Sun seems to have safely passed the experimental stage. Wilmington has a partial and excellent evening paper in the Review. Fayetteville will need the able services of the Gazette again, especially now that her railroad interests are looking up, and we are glad to learn that the Gazette is to be revived at an early day. The Tarboro Southerner, solid and able, published in a section of the State noted for its agricultural wealth, is approaching its centenary with measured and certain step. There are few papers in the State that show more ability and intelligence than the editoria colums of the Burke County Blade and the Chatham Record. Decidedly the spiciest local sheet in the State is the Riedsville Times-Tom Evans' paper. The first volume of the Winston Lead. er, edited by Mr. Robinson, a sprightly writer and a better printer, promises to be a highly successful enterprise. This week's issue of the Winston Sentinel is the best number of that paper we remember to have seen. The Goldsboro Mail has a valuable acquisition in Mr. Nixon P. Clingman.

The Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Road.

A bill has been introduced in the House by Dr. York asking for convicts to build a railroad up the valley of the Yadkin river to Patterson's factory in Caldure claims the earnest and cordial going to be eagerly south after, and support of the Legislature.

section of the State, embracing the Alexander, Caldwell, Wilkes, Alleghany, Ashe and Watauga has received less State aid in proportion to its extent and the value of it resources, in developing its resources, than any section of the commonwealth. Not one dollar of public money has ever been spent in all that section, for r il roads, canals, or river improvement; and but a small amount for a turnpike, and that, owing to the fact that the turnpike built, runs paralell to the markets, instead of toward them. Besides the amount appropriated was totolly inadequate to complete tie work projected.

Secondly, because no other section of the State of equal extent, can compare with this in the value and variety of agricultural and mineral productions which it would send to market if means of transportion were provided. The whole of this section is composed of hills, valleys and mountains, wonderfully fertile in the production of all the cereals, and a large part of it yields as fine tobacco as can be grown any where; while the whole of the mountain counties of Alleghany, Ashe, and Watauga is a natural grass country, where timothy and other valuable grasses spring up spontaneously wherever the forest is removed, and grow as luxuriantly as they do in the richest part of the valley of Virginia.

Through this section for more than seventy-five miles runs the Yadkin river, with its wide and fertile "bottoms," growing wider and more fertile as they approach the Blue Ridge. These "bottoms" and those on the tributary streams, are capable of producing every year, for here the crops never fail, grain enough to feed all the inhabitants of the State. And yet, so far is this section from a market, that the surplus grain raised is almost worthless, and a good crop year is scarcely a blessing to the inhabitants; for they cannot afford to haul their grain to market, the transportation costing more than the grain is worth in market. The result is that all surplus grain has to be manufactured into whiskey; and under the oppressive internal revenue laws of the United States, suppressing the distilation of whiskey as a legitimate bus iness, many of the people are driven, almost by necessity, into its clandestine manufacture, and become lawbreakers in order to get the products of their industry into the markets of available to those who loaned the State the world. The Town of Winston.

The last issue of the Winston Sentitinel is devoted to the consideration of the business interests of that thrifty and enterprising town. Among other things the Sentinel says no place in the State offers greater inducements to buyers than the large wholesale and retale establishments of than town. We quote from the Sentinel, commending its enterprise in so ably advertising the local and business attractions of its

"Our merchants are all close buyers and the competition has reduced prices to the very smallest margin for profits. In fact our merchants are a trading people and act upon the maxim that a nimble sixpence is worth more than a dull shillng, and that quick sales and small profits will always insure a good income and build up trade.—It is a well established fact that Winston and Salem are the cheapest markets to buy em are the cheapest markets to buy goods in Western North Carolina, in consequence of the close competition. We have sixteen large stores carrying a general stock of merchandise, with six jobbing houses who do a large wholesale business, besides a number of other stores carrying a stock of dry goods, clothing, notions, boots, shoes, five milliner, two stoves and tinware. four furniture, two notions, four drugs, one exclusive hardware and implement store, two book, stationary and fancy goods, three barness and saddlery establishments, three sewing machine agencies, two tin shops, one tin and copper smith shop and three butcher stands, which shows an array of competition which insures the very be t goods at the very lowest prices.

Public Expenses and the State Debt.

Salisbury Watchman.

The present Legislature have thus far exhibited a just appreciation of one of the leading desires of their constituents-the reduction of public expenses —and have already adopted some measures and initiated others to this end. A close scrutiny should be made into every subject of public expense, and everything of doubtful value to the State lopped off entirely, or the cost reduced to the scale of absolute utility. This is due to the people not only in view of their pecuniary embarrassments, but also in respect to their good fame for honesty. The next in importance is to do something towards arranging

And more than all, that they will not turn their backs on the credi tors of the State and give a pleased attention to those subjects which call for appropriations of money. It will not to to affect the character of liberality at the expense of justice. The bond-holders of the State have claims on this Legislature of higher dignity than any scheme of internal improvement, schools, or anything else. It is not necessary, we trust, to offer anything n support of this proposition. Every honest man in the country detests the man who will not pay his debts and who yet finds the means for "keeping up appearances" for himself and family. Why should not every bonest community denounce North Carolina while she neglects to pay her debts and yet spends large sums in liberal enterrises! They do denounce her, and her bonds in the market rate accordingly. This is a reproach, a shame, which should be speedily wiped out, and the character of the State redeemed. Let the debt be put in a form pay their taxes annually to the State while the State has constantly refused them. This is a grevous hardship. The State may indeed owe an education to all her children; she may owe to certain sections material aid for improvement, but before all these she owes those who loaned her money, and it is a simple violation of every princis ple of justice to appropriate money to any purpose which does not promote

Mr. H. R. Stevens, Boston, Mass.:—
Dear Sir,—I feel greatly indebted to your excellent medicine, Vegeting, for what it has done for me. I have been subjected to Rheumatism all my life. Was attacked with it three years ago, and supering territle pains in my chest, back, and limbs for six or eight months, at which time I commenced using Vegeting on the advice of a friend, who had been entirely cured by it. I had scarcely used a half bottle until the pain had left me, and my general health began to improve rapicly under influence of this great blood purifier. I had also suffered dreadfully from a rasal Catarra for seven or eight years. After taking the first bottle of Vegeting I noticed a great change for the better. The constant pains and heaviness that I had over my eyes for years disappeared, and the discharge of mucus from the head ceased. My appetite got better, and strength seemed to come with every cose of medicine. Too much cannot be said in its favor; and I always take pleasure in recommending it to my friends who may be suffering from any disease of the blood, for I feel satisfied I. they try it they are sure of a cure.

Rheumatise is a Discase of the Blood.

The blood in this disease, is found to contain an excess of fibrin. Vegetine acts by converting the blood from its diseased condition to a healthy circulation. One bottle of Vegetine will give relief, but to effect a permanent cure it must be taken regularly, and may take several bottles, especially in cases of long standing.

Elizabeth City Econe mist. For s vera days the community has b. en a good d at exercised upon the subject of the blizabeth City and Norfor Radioad. The s ockholders meetng on Tuesday, at which a large namber were present, gave new impulse to the subject. It brought out opposition t, the new management under which he road was to be built. It brought telegram to the stockholders, while in session, from New York and Philadelphia, with propositions to build the read at ouce, and with the assurance of abundant means to do so. But the stockholders elected their new officers, and received the assurance that the work of building the road would begin without delay. After the adjournment a writ of injunction was served upon the officers of the road by Mr. Chandler, forbiding the work until his claim was settled. This impeded the work, but we understand that this impediment has been or will be removed by a satisfactory arrangement.

Public sentiment is somewhat divided upon the result of this new railroad move. The current of opinion is against it. The community has been so often deceived by propositions from abroad to build the road, that our most substantial citizens, both in town and country, have lost all faith in the sincerity and honesty of purpose of any reputed capitalist who comes here and proposes to undertake this work.

We have obtained all the information we could in order to satisfy ourself and our friends upon this subject. We have interviewed the new President of the road, Zephaciah Underwood, of Harveyburg, Ohio, who takes the contract and proposes to "put hands on the road" without delay, and we have come to the conclusion, that the stockholders have at last found the right man, and that Zephaniah Underwood means what he tells us that he will commence work on the road under the contract in a very short time.

Virtuous Butler.

Congressional Record. Mr. Butler said: "The resolution alleged that there are certain cipher dispatches which are supposed to show that there was an attempt by fraud or bribery to influence the electoral vote of Florida, Oregon and South Carolina. The resolution does not allege that there is any evidence expected to show that any vote was influenced by those attacks. Then we have this case be fore us: We citizens which were or which were not crimes at the time they were done. If they were crimes, the law will punish them. If they were not crimes, we can make no ex post facto law that will reach them, and whatever done requires no legislative remedy and no legislative action. We all know that bribery and fraud in elections can be punished, and we need no set of inventions of any set of men to frame a law for that purpose. Therefore there is absolutely no ground of jurisdiction in this House to do what is proposed it shall do. The only ground on which the House can take jurisdiction of private correspondence, whether by telegram or by mail, is that same pronunciation. the House requires the information in order to get legislative action. There can be no other ground under keaven. I submit to the lawyers of the House -yea to the good sense of every member of the House, whereon we can found our right to put our hands on an act of any private man or correspondence of any private man. He is a private man for this purpose who does not hold an official United States position. Now, without jurisdiction what is expected from those cipher dispatches? It is expected that somebody will either be vindicated or be snubbed—one or the other-and it is absolutely none of our business to do either, and above all to take the public money for that purpose. Besides, Congress should not take part in the slander of any public man to satisfy the curiosity of anybody in the House or out of it. The result of appropriating money for the investigation would be to stir up something which had better not be seen, or felt or smelt. It would be far better to give the $10,000 to a poor workingman's family. I have spoken against the resolution, in order than it may be the Yarboro.

A much intoxicated country-man came slowly up Fayetteville street yesterday, sitting unsteadily upon the oddest specimen of equine architecture ever een here. He grew too eloquent over the bunch of stowed away in his little cell to slumber off his spree.

A quartette of 'Revenuers," as they term them in the west, returned to the city yesterday, flushed with victory. The party was composed of Revenue Agent Kellogg, Deputy Collector Sorrell, and Deputies O'Neill and Martin. The scene of their operations was Chatham county, near Merry Oaks. They left this city on Thursday. Going to that locality found a still and fixtures which they brought in in triumph. They also got 13 beer stands, 1,000 gallons beer, 20 gallons low wines, 15 bus-Son et. al., from Franklin; (two cases.) hels malt, etc. As they returned to the town of Merry Oaks with their prizes the party presented an awe-inspiring appearance. In front walked the Deputy Collector, armed to the teeth with a large carbine, while just in the rear strode the Revenue Agent. Following the still and fixtures, while the rear was brought up by the other deputy, astride a horse loaded with the captured malt and other plunder. The rarely pictures que appearance of the detachment caused a peripatetic photographer to rush up and offer to take their "pic-tur," but they did not care to thus appear, and kept on their way. They eturned to the city yesterday morning, and brought this news. Information was also received at the Collector's office of the capture of a large still at J. D. Allen's mill-pond, in Orange county, near the Person line. The still was fixed up in a substantial frame house, of good size, and it was evident that the owner intended to stay

It Might Have Been.

When taking a retrospection of our past lives, how often does conscience whisper to broken spirits and wounded hearts the sad, sad words. "It might have been?" Thus it may be with the sufferer who endures the agonies of hemorrhoids, or piles, and heeds not the counsel to try Barham's Infalliable ble Cure, which is warranted to speedly and permanently cure this distressing disease. Manufactured by the. Darham Pile Cure Co., Durham, N. C

There is a form of Consumption which was better indicated by the old fashioned name of "accline." It is the dreaded scourge of some parts of the Southern States, claiming more victims every year than are swept away by the most terrible visitations of the yellow fever. The malady arises from the inability of the patients system, to take up and assimilate the nourishing ingredients of the food that is eaten. Some years ago the medical profession, with remarkable quanimity, agreed that cod liver oil contained the most concentrated ant easily absorbed elements of nutrition. If the nauseous taste and smell of the oil could be avoided it would unquestionably be the most sovereign remedy that ever shed a healing blessing on the human race. And these repulsive properties are successfully removed by the union of pure Cod Liver oil with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda in Scott's Emusion. The combination is a most elegant one, pleasant as sweet milk in flay or congenial ton the stomach, and act ng directly as a power of yet gentle tonic of the brain and nerves. Good Cheer for Consumptives.

Not Medicine but Food.

The fall and early winter season is the harvest time of hecking coughs and debilitating forms of Catarth, just as the later spring is the seed time of malarial fevers. To know a certain cure of the one, and a preventive of the other, is to have within our reach the most inestimable biersing of the period. We do not know of them. for the period. We do not know of them. for these really may velous properties are combined in Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda.

Speer's Port Grape Wine.

This article of American Wine is highly esteemed by the physicians in this country. The following is a testimonial we saw from the New York Hospital. We publiso it for the information of our readers:

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.

I am using Speer's Port Grape Wine, and find it to be *n excellent tonic and gentle stimulant, and all other wines, as it postesses their tonic properties without the deleterious effect caused by their impurities it is also very palatable, and this it a recommendation to many, especially females.
